(NOTE A) -- Basis of Presentation and the Company:

Basis of presentation:

The accompanying unaudited condensed financial statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles for interim financial information and with the instructions to Form 10-QSB and Regulations S-B. Accordingly, they do not include all of the information and footnotes required by generally accepted accounting principles for complete financial statements. In the opinion of management, all adjustments (consisting of normal recurring accruals) considered necessary for fair presentation have been included. Operating results of the nine-month period ended June 30, 1998 are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the year ended September 30, 1998.

The balance sheet at September 30, 1997 has been restated giving effect to the acquisition of Design Crafting, Inc. which is being accounted for as a Purchase as described in Note E and has been derived from the audited financial statements at the date but does not include all the information and footnotes required by generally accepted accounting principles for complete financial statements. The accompanying financial statements include the accounts of DynamicWeb Enterprises, Inc. ("DWEB") and its wholly owned subsidiaries, Megascore, Inc., DynamicWeb Transactions Systems, Inc. ("DWTS"), Design Crafting, Inc, and Software Associates, from the date of acquisition (November 30, 1996) (collectively the "Company"). All significant intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated.

Significant Accounting Policies:

[1] Basic loss per share of common stock:

The Company adopted Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 128 (SFAS No. 128). Basic loss per share of common stock is based on the weighted average number of shares outstanding. Contingent shares issuable in connection with the acquisition of Software Associates, Inc. are excluded from the weighted average shares outstanding. Stock options did not have an effect on the computation of dilutive loss per share in the three and nine month periods ended June 30, 1998 since they were anti-dilutive. The adoption of SFAS No. 128, which requires a retroactive adjustment did not have a material effect on the Company's financial statement.

[2] Software development costs:

Costs relating to the conceptual formulation and design of software are expensed as research and development. Costs incurred subsequent to establishment of technological feasibility to produce the finished product are generally capitalized. Technological feasibility was established when a product design and a working model were completed. Capitalized software costs are amortized by the straight-line method over a maximum of five years or the expected life of the product, whichever is less.

The total number of shares contributed was 654,597 shares, representing approximately 32% of the issued and outstanding common stock at the time of contribution. The effect of the Contribution of Stock transaction was to reduce the outstanding number of shares of common stock from 2,074,710 to 1,420,113. The Company valued such transactions, based upon the market value of the Company's common stock which aggregated $3,606,829. (NOTE C) -- Public Offering:

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations The following discussion and analysis should be read in conjunction with the financial statements included in this report and in conjunction with the description of the Company's business included in the Company's Form 10-KSB for the year ended September 30, 1997. It is intended to assist the reader in understanding and evaluating the financial position of the Company.

This discussion contains, in addition to historical information, forward looking statements that involve risks and uncertainty. The Company's actual results could differ materially from the results discussed in the forward-looking statements. Factors that could cause or contribute to such differences include those discussed in the Company's Form 10-KSB for the year ended September 30, 1997.

The financial statements included in this report are consolidated for the Company and its four subsidiaries, DynamicWeb Transaction Services, Inc., (DWTS)., Megascore, Inc. (Megascore), Software Associates, Inc. (Software Associates) from the date of acquisition on November 30, 1996 and Design Crafting, Inc, (Design) from the date of acquisition on May 1, 1998. On May 1, 1998 the Company acquired all of the outstanding shares of stock of Design for 92,500 shares of the Company's stock and up to 10,000 additional shares based on certain balances at May 1, 1998. The transaction was accounted for as a purchase in accordance with Accounting Principle Board No. 16.

Financial Condition

As of June 30, 1998, the Company had cash and cash equivalents of approximately $213,000 and total current assets of approximately $532,000.

The Company had a net loss of approximately $2,017,000 for the nine months ended June 30, 1998 and negative operating cash flow of approximately $1,820,000. The Company's negative cash flow for the nine months was funded by proceeds from the sale of equity securities that was completed in February 1998.

On June 30, 1998, the capital resources available to the Company were not adequate to finance the Company's activities for the full year ended September 30, 1999. However, on August 7, 1998, the Company received an aggregate of $875,000 in a private placement to the Shaar Fund, Ltd. of 875 shares of Series A 6% Convertible Preferred Stock, par value $0.001 per share (the "Preferred Stock") together with 87,500 Common Stock Purchased Warrants with a term of three years and an exercise price of $6.00 per share. This financing represents the first tranche of $1,550,000 financing with the Shaar Fund, Ltd.

Results of Operations

<PAGE 13>

Beginning with the Company's filing of Form 10-QSB for the reporting period ending December 31,1997, the format of the Company's financial reports has been changed to reflect its goals and objectives as an electronic commerce company. As such, revenues are presented for the Company's two principal segments, transaction processing and professional services. Similarly, expenses for marketing and sales have been separated from expenses of general and administration to more accurately reflect the Company's increased focus on marketing and sales. Management believes that continuous investments in marketing and sales are necessary to grow the Company's business, and that a similar commitment to research and development will allow the Company's technology to achieve and to maintain a value added proposition in the marketplace.

The Company recognized net sales of approximately $350,000 for the quarter ended June 30, 1998, compared to approximately $221,000 for the same period in 1997, an increase of approximately $129,000 or 58%. The Company had net sales of approximately $720,000 for the nine month period ending June 30, 1998 as compared to approximately $498,000 for the same period in 1997, an increase of approximately $222,000 or 45%. The increase in revenue for both periods ending June 30, 1998 was attributable to new sales of the Company's EDI/Internet services and products, particularly its transaction processing service and its consulting services provided through the Company's Professional Services Group.

Net sales for the Company's transaction processing services for the three months ended June 30, 1998 were approximately $150,000 compared to approximately $110,000 for the same period in 1997, an increase of approximately $40,000 or 36%. The increase is the result of growth in transaction processing of approximately $30,000 for existing customers as new trading partners were brought on line, and new sales of EDI Services of approximately $40,000, both of which offset the elimination of revenues from an internet domain list that the Company no longer maintains for sale. Net sales for the Company's transaction processing services increased from approximately $218,000 for the nine months ended June 30, 1997 to approximately $329,000 for the same period in 1998, an increase of $111,000 of 51%. This increase is largely attributable to an increase in sales of EDI/Internet products and services, including the addition of new transaction processing customers, as well as sales of EDI/Internet services related to the addition of new trading partners for current customers.

Net sales for the Company's professional services were approximately $68,000 for the three months ended June 30, 1997 compared to approximately $191,000 for the same period in 1998, an increase of approximately $123,000 or 180%. The increase is attributable to a decline in sales of system integration services (approximately $5,000) which was offset by an increase in consulting services delivered through Design Crafting, Inc., which was acquired on May 1, 1998. Net sales for these professional services increased from approximately $177,000 for the nine months ending June 30, 1997 to approximately $332,000 for the same period in 1998, an increase of approximately <PAGE 14>

$154,000 or 87%. This increase is attributable to the shift in the Company's core business from its system integration services to electronic commerce services and consulting services rendered through Design Crafting, Inc.

Net sales for the Company's other products were approximately $43,000 for the three months ended June 30, 1997 compared to approximately $9,000 for the same period in 1998, a decrease of $34,000 or approximately 79%. Net sales for these products were approximately $103,000 for the nine months ending June 30, 1997 compared to approximately $59,000 for same period in 1998 a decrease of approximately $44,000 or 43%. These decreases are attributable to the shift in the Company's core business, from its system integration services, particularly the sale of computer hardware and software, to electronic commerce services.

Cost of transaction processing was approximately $110,000 for the three months ended June 30, 1998, for a gross profit of 27%. This compares to cost of transaction processing of approximately $30,000, or 73% for the same period in 1997. The decrease in profitability is attributable to salaries related to new hires, rental of equipment and floor space for the Company's scaleable network infrastructure, and salary increases that took effect on March 1, 1998 and June 1, 1998. In order to remain competitive, the Company has committed to compensate its employees at prevailing market rates. The cost of transaction processing was approximately $254,000 for the nine months ended June 30, 1998, for a gross profit of 23%. This compares to cost of transaction processing of approximately $78,000, or 64% for the same period in 1997. The decrease in profitability is attributable to higher monthly fixed costs associated with a re-engineered, scaleable network infrastructure and expansion of the Company's EDI support capability, as described above.

The Company's cost of providing its professional services was approximately $146,000 for the three months ended June 30, 1998 or a gross profit of 24%. This compares to cost of providing its professional service of approximately $22,000 for the three months ended June 30, 1998, or a gross profit of approximately $46,000 or 67% for the same period for 1997. The decrease in gross profit percentage for the Company's professional services is attributable to the ongoing transition, including a redeployment of personnel from services related to system integration to services related to EDI/Internet solution, salaries related to new hires, and the addition of consultants through the acquisition of Design Crafting, Inc. A portion of the decrease is also attributable to salary increases that took effect on March 1, 1998 and June 1 1998.

Cost of other products was approximately $8,000 for the three months ended June 30, 1998, or a gross profit of 5%, as compared to approximately $10,000, or a gross profit of 77% for the same period in 1997. This decrease is attributable to the transition from sales of high margin computer products ancillary to system integration services and a redeployment of resources despite the <PAGE 15> continued demand for computer products. Cost of other products was approximately $23,000 for the nine months ended June 30, 1998, or a gross profit of 61%, as compared to approximately $40,000, or a gross profit of 61% for the same period in 1997.
