ITEM 5. OTHER EVENTS.

As a result of continuing operating losses during 2001 and 2002, eB2B Commerce, Inc. (the "Company") determined to discontinue its training and client educational services business as of September 30, 2002. This business, which entails the provision of authorized technical training education services and training seminars to corporate computer professionals, has been treated as a separate reportable segment and was not part of the Company's core transaction processing business. The Company does not have a buyer for this business and management is currently winding down its operations. For the year ended December 31, 2001, the training and client educational services business segment contributed revenues of approximately $2.5 million and an EDITDA (Earnings Before Interest, Taxes, Depreciation and Amortization) loss of $15,000. For the six months ended June 30, 2002, revenues and EBITDA for this business segment were $724,000 and a loss of $333,000, respectively. The net liabilities of this discontinued operation will be recorded at their net realizable value under the caption "Net liabilities of discontinued operation" in the September 30, 2002 balance sheet when the Company files its Form 10-Q for the three months ended September 30, 2002.
